

Final Exam Study Guide

1. General Computation
 - a. Be able to compute various samples of code given to you
 - b. Be able to explain what code is doing in plain English
 - c. Be able to trace values in given code
2. UML Class Design
 - a. Be able to read and interpret a UML Class Diagram
 - b. Be able to implement code that is depicted in a diagram (stubbed out)
 - c. Determine various relationships amongst classes, interfaces, abstract classes, etc.
 - i. Four types of UML relationships
 - d. Be able to reverse engineer a UML diagram with provided code
3. General Class Construction
 - a. Be able to create classes effectively
 - b. Be able to utilize inheritance when necessary
 - c. Effectively utilize properties
4. Testing and Exception Handling
 - a. General practices of testing including unit testing
 - b. Be able to trace references of objects
 - c. Use exception handling appropriately